Rare Woodinville Log Retreat on 3.71 Private Acres

Handcrafted from the ground up and nestled within a cathedral of Pacific Northwest old-growth evergreens, this iconic two-story log home on 3.71 private acres delivers a living experience that simply cannot be replicated. From the moment you arrive via the long private drive, the setting makes it clear this is something truly special - a storybook property where authentic craftsmanship, natural beauty, and everyday comfort come together in perfect balance.

Soaring A-frame gable windows flood the great room with natural light, while vaulted ceilings, hand-scribed log walls, and a dramatic floor-to-ceiling brick fireplace create a living space that is as architecturally stunning as it is warm and inviting. The open kitchen and dining area continue the home's commitment to quality - quartz counters, stainless appliances, abundant knotty pine cabinetry with leaded glass accents, and a generous peninsula with bar seating make this a kitchen designed for those who love to cook and gather. A dedicated main-level family room with its own brick fireplace adds a second anchor for daily living, while the upper-level study loft provides a quiet retreat for work or reading.

Three bedrooms and three bathrooms are thoughtfully distributed across 2,210 square feet. The generous primary suite features a wall of forest-facing gable windows and a private ensuite bath with glass-enclosed shower and mahogany vanity. Two secondary bedrooms each offer private deck access, closet storage, and forested views. A dedicated laundry room, efficient heating and cooling provide by a newer Heat Pump, and a portable generator add the practical reliability that discerning buyers expect.

Outside, multi-level decks wrap the home and open to sweeping private grounds - open lawn areas, mature plantings, a detached two-car garage with shop area, and a secondary outbuilding provide space and flexibility that is extraordinarily rare in today's market. No HOA. Served by the award-winning Northshore School District. Minutes from Woodinville's world-class wine country, dining, and shopping.
